Learning resources and materials to help your child at home on the Hertfordshire Local Offer website

The Local Offer, Hertfordshire's website for families of young people aged 0 -25 with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND), has a resources area where parents and families can find materials and resources they can use to help their child learn key skills. The resources area specifically looks to support those families whose child has an additional need, but it can be used by any family, and may have certain educational activities that can help any pupil to develop a skill they may be struggling with. The resources area includes:

- Activity sheets and ideas provided by the Specific Learning Difficulties team, which can help progress in key areas including writing, memory, numbers and spelling
- Practical help for children who are struggling with their mental health, either as a result of COVID19 or more generally
- Help with explaining COVID-19 to younger children and young people with autism, including social stories and easy read documents
- Materials which help young people to develop their independence, including cooking activities
- Lots of fun ideas for your children to do independently or as a family at home to encourage them to explore and use their imagination

Find it all at www.hertfordshire.gov.uk/SENDresources

Covid 19/Coronavirus SEND information from Herts Parent Carers Involvement

National Charity Contact is a partner organisation to all parent carer forums in England. It is also a trusted source of information and advice for families on coronavirus and how you might be affected by it - see the range of topics below. This information will be updated regularly and they are also looking at how else they can support families online with Facebook live sessions, online chats etc.

Coronavirus: Information for families with disabled children

From general advice and benefits to your child's education and tips and links to help you cope at home, you can find out the latest information, support and advice about Coronavirus and its impact on families with disabled children on their new Covid-19 \(coronavirus\) webpage. Government announces suspension of benefit reviews and reassessments

Fortnightly Communication for Parent/Carers – 22.04.2020

On the 24th March the government announced that reviews and reassessments for disability benefits are being suspended for the next three months.

This temporary measure effective from Tuesday 24 March, is being taken to reassure vulnerable people about the continuity of their benefits during the coronavirus outbreak and to ensure the department's resources are focused on enabling access to financial support for new claimants. It follows a previous announcement to suspend all face-to-face assessments in order to safeguard potentially vulnerable claimants.

NHS England

NHS England has published measures for a group of people whose physical health conditions mean they are at the greatest risk from Coronavirus. That guidance can be found here. Some of this group will be people with a learning disability, autism or both and we have been asked to share that guidance with our parent network.

A letter from the NHS has been going out to these patients to provide information about accessing health and social care during this time and extra support available for them, their families and carers. All those who receive a letter are encouraged to register now by going to www.gov.uk/coronavirus-extremely-vulnerable or call 0800 028 8327, the Government's dedicated helpline. This will tell whether or not they are in touch with friends, family or a support network in their community who can support them to get food and medicine, and follow the advice in the letter they have received.

Keep safe and well.

Best wishes,

Carol Kelsey

Advice for Parents during Coronavirus

Advice for parents during coronavirus

Whilst coronavirus is infectious to children it is rarely serious. If your child is unwell it is likely to be a non-coronavirus illness, rather than coronavirus itself.

Whilst it is extremely important to follow Government advice to stay at home during this period, it can be confusing to know what to do when your child is unwell or injured. Remember that NHS 111, GPs and hospitals are still providing the same safe care that they have always done. Here is some advice to help.

 RED	If your child has any of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Becomes pale, mottled and feels abnormally cold to the touch Has pauses in their breathing (apnoea), has an irregular breathing pattern or starts grunting Severe difficulty in breathing becoming agitated or unresponsive Is going blue round the lips Has a ribcage Becomes extremely distressed (crying inconsolably despite distraction), confused, very lethargic (difficult to wake) or unresponsive Develops a rash that does not disappear with pressure (the 'glass test') Has testicular pain, especially in teenage boys 	You need urgent help: Go to the nearest A&E department or phone 999
 AMBER	If your child has any of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Is finding it hard to breathe including drawing in of the muscles below their lower ribs, at their neck or between their ribs (recession) or head bobbing Seems dehydrated (dry mouth, sunken eyes, no tears, drowsy or passing less urine than usual) Is becoming drowsy (increasingly sleepy) or irritable (unable to settle them with toys, TV, food or picking up) - especially if they remain drowsy or irritable despite their fever coming down Has extreme shivering or complaints of muscle pain Babies under 3 months of age with a temperature above 38°C / 100.4°F Infants 3-6 months of age with a temperature above 38°C / 102.2°F For all infants and children with a fever above 38°C for more than 5 days. Is getting worse or if you are worried Has persistent vomiting and/or persistent severe abdominal pain Has blood in their poo or wee Any limb injury causing reduced movement, persistent pain or head injury causing persistent crying or drowsiness 	You need to contact a doctor or nurse today. Please ring your GP surgery or call NHS 111 - dial 111 The NHS is working for you. However, we recognise during the current coronavirus crisis at peak times, access to a health care professional may be delayed. If symptoms persist for 4 hours or more and you have not been able to speak to either a GP or 111, then take your child to the nearest A&E
 GREEN	If none of the above features are present <ul style="list-style-type: none"> You can continue to provide your child care at home. Information is also available on NHS Choices Additional advice is available to families for coping with crying of well babies Additional advice is available for children with complex health needs and disabilities. 	Self care Continue providing your child's care at home. If you are still concerned about your child, call NHS 111 - dial 111
