

Dear Red Ash,

How are you? Aren't we lucky with the lovely weather we've had? Don't forget to apply sun cream and wear a hat. Did the half term different? I hope you had some lovely times with your family. Now that we can go for a longer drive, I went to see my mummy. She sat in her front garden and I sat in the car talking to her from a safe distance. We decided before we went that we would hug ourselves then it would feel like we hugged one another. Perhaps you can try that with family members that you see on skype.

Our lovely butterflies are now enjoying their time flying around Berkhamsted, look out for them! My husband misses them and was sad to see them fly off quickly! When they were in their net he cut some of his roses and added them to give the butterflies nectar. (He must have really liked the butterflies because he LOVES his roses!) 😊

I hope you enjoyed the Elmer activities. I have given some learning suggestions for the next two weeks around the story 'What the Ladybird heard'. Remember it might not be possible to all of these but please don't worry. I want you to be safe and happy. Do what is ok for you and your family.

We'll be making maps, counting doubles, describing 3D shapes around the house and finding out about ladybirds. Find time to do some Cosmic Kids yoga, its very relaxing and you can do this by yourself once the clip is started for you.

Please keep your emails coming, they make me smile!

Mrs Murphy xx

beverley.murphy@greenway.herts.sch.uk