Dear Maple,

You all look great in your 'rainbow' of hoodies and have been brilliant at adjusting to the further changes caused by the remaining year groups returning to school. As ever, you have been resilient and great role models to the younger children. To those who have not been back yet- we really miss you and I will be ringing you shortly to have a catch-up and see how you are. As always, I look forward to hearing from any of you via email - so please continue to let me know what you have been up to at home as well.

I have created another two-week home learning pack. It contains lots of different English, Maths, Art, STEM and DT activities including producing illustrations for JK Rowling's new book. There are also some PHSE activities around good mental health and staying safe on-line. We will not necessarily be doing the same things at school so work through the activities at your own pace.

I'm delighted to report that the Year Book is finally finished after a great deal of work by Mrs Doran. I'm so grateful for her help with this project so please remember to thank her next time you see her around the school (she is back in Year 4 on Monday and Tuesday now).

Stay safe and keep busy,

Mrs Adams.
